Examiner Gellner:

Mr. Luense and I thank you for taking time out of your schedule to meet with us on March 14, 2007. We agree with your Interview Summary regarding Applicant's explanation that the instant invention is an homogenous energetic material in the shape of a nanotube as opposed to the prior art of record, which is a heterogeneous mixture of carbon nanotubes with energetic material.

Further to the interview, should the Examiner find the application to be other than in condition for allowance subsequent to the Interview, the Examiner is requested to
